

ARTIST INTRODUCTION: FROM OHIO WITH LOVE

Please have a student, administrator or teacher read this before the in-school performance.

Folk culture begins at the grassroots but can bear fruit in far away and unexpected places. Together, Dayton-born folk musician Brother Hill and his friend, singer Amedee Royer, tell the story of how two folk cultures built a bridge from a world away to share in a struggle and face seemingly insurmountable odds. In this presentation we learn how folk music can give us hope when all seems hopeless, can bring people together when we feel most alone, and how our songs can not only uplift the soul, but can save lives as well. Please give a round of applause for FROM OHIO WITH LOVE!
