

Ayanna Gregory

Soul singer, songwriter, storyteller, actor and activist, Ms. Ayanna Gregory travels around the world speaking to and performing for audiences of all ages. She is committed to using her voice to inspire people everywhere to lead with love and live their best lives. She is also the daughter of the legendary Comedian and Human Rights activist, Dick Gregory. Following in her father's footsteps, she uses her voice to push for social justice and equality. And she believes that young people are the ones who will change the world.

Ms. Gregory has multiple musical projects including a Children's Album called, "I Dream A World". She loves songwriting and she even got the chance to co-write a song for Stevie Wonder. She also has a One Woman Show entitled "Daughter of the Struggle" which is her autobiographical play about growing up as a child of the Civil Rights Movement.

Ms. Gregory has travelled from Washington, DC to perform for us today thanks to MUSE MACHINE. She will share a powerful presentation entitled, "Yes We're Ready." Through music, movement, stories and affirmations, Ms. Ayanna Gregory will help us to see just how amazing we are!
